Sing a song of sixpence.
It's June of forty-four.
Here at last is MURIVIAN,
Steeped in nursery lore.

AKERS HOUSE BOYS IN SERVICE

They serve our land on far flung battlefields,
And heavy is the sword that each one wields.
Yet soon to join them in the bloody job,
Are other classmates whom this war will rob.

AKERS HOUSE HOUSEMASTER

For four years we have lived together happily, sharing our work and our play, our sorrows and our pleasure. You have been busily at work writing the recommendations which now we must transcribe for your use as you take the next big step forward. During these years you have grown in social grace as well as mentally and physically; you have learned to make adjustments and allowances in a way which will be useful in your more adult life. You have made mistakes—but how else does one grow? Some have written wisely; some, not so wisely — but surely you all must know that with the transcript of that recommendation, which you have written for us to give you, will go the interpretation of friends who have enjoyed you, your questions, and your confidences; — yes, even your occasional lapses from grace!

Keep us informed of your progress wherever it may be, come back to visit us — either personally or by letter. Know that you are always welcome.

God speed you all in your coming journey!

EMMA POLAND

To the Class of 1944:

You graduate in the dawn of a new day. To be sure, only the first faint light now brightens the horizon. But the world-peace which many of you will help to secure is to be the heritage of your generation.

The coming of this peace will open the frontiers to opportunities as limitless as the depths of the earth and of the skies above. For man can no longer live in the two-dimensional world of the past: he can not live unto himself alone.

The most challenging frontier for you as pioneers will be that of exploration and discovery in the field of human relationships. New concepts are in the air. Yours will be the privilege of shaping them for the general good of mankind everywhere.

We shall miss you. We thank you for the unquestioned record you leave with us. And with you, we, too, look confidently to the future.

God-speed your journey. Sincerely yours,

WILFRED H. RINGER, Headmaster

Cordial Greetings to the Class of 1944:

As you leave the familiar routine of high school days and move forward into accelerated training courses, into war work of all kinds, into the armed services of your country, you are very much in our thoughts. The school has tried to give you breadth of vision, tolerance toward those with whom you do not always agree, sympathetic understanding of those less fortunate than yourselves.

Primarily your task has been to fit yourselves for the work ahead whatever it may be. It has not been easy to keep your perspective in these uncertain days. It has not been easy for the faculty to realize that you scarcely remember a world at peace. For the most part you have kept your heads—and we are proud of you. The war should show us that we are dependent on each other, that neither nation nor individual can live a thoughtless, selfish life, if we are to make what we wish of our community and national life. May the poets dream of our loved country come true through you:

"America, America,
God mend thine every flaw;
Confirm thy soul in self-control
Thy liberty in law!"

or to use the words of another writer, "Make you the world a bit more beautiful, and better because you have been in it."

Keep in touch with us at school. Remember we are always glad to hear from you.

Cordially yours,
MARY W. SAWYER, Dean of Girls

THE PRESIDENT'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

Teachers, Friends, Classmates:

This evening's gathering is the last social occasion of our high school career. The memory of our four years in Brookline High School is something that will linger with us throughout our entire life.

At this time it is only fitting that we pay tribute to the people of the town who have made such a school as Brookline High possible and to our teachers and coaches for the fine training and friendly courtesy that we have always received from them. As a result of their unselfish sacrifices and patience we are fully prepared to enter the next stage of our lives. To the majority of the boys this will mean entering some branch of the armed forces and to others it will mean going to College or securing a job.

Serving such a grand group of fellows and girls, in my capacity as President, has indeed been a pleasure. I want to thank all of you for your fine cooperative spirit, which you all so generously possess, and wish you the very best of luck in your future work.

THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Parents, Teachers, Friends:

The Class of 1944 extends to all of you assembled here a cordial welcome. We are well aware that whatever success we have attained in our High School career is due to you, our parents, whose sympathetic love and devotion has been a shining light to guide us on the road to success; to you, our teachers, whose fine training and unselfish sacrifices have made possible this hour of triumph; and to you, our friends, whose genial interest has been a source of inspiration and encouragement.

Graduation is always an important event, but especially important to the graduates of this class, since they are privileged to receive the seal of the school whereas many of our class mates have been obliged to leave without it. To these classmates, who are now serving in the armed forces, we extend our sincere good wishes for success in the great task they are now undertaking.

The majority of the boys in this graduating class are preparing to enter some branch of the armed forces. My only hope is that the element of time will hasten the goal of victory so that these boys will be able to return to their homes and loved ones in safety and in peace.

My very best wishes and luck to you, one and all.

CLASS HISTORY

We offer our deepest apologies to the authors of "Evangeline," "H.M.S. Pinafore," "Antiseptic Baby and the Prophylactic Pup" and "Anchors Away", for borrowing the rhythm of their poems.

When laymen and sages
All down through the ages
Pore over past history,
They'll find '44
In the midst of a war
And the outcome deep mystery.

Should they want to know more
'Bout our class '44
They need buy a "Muriv" and look,
While the world went to pot
We made our own little spot
On the page of the Golden Book.

So with an eye to the sages
All down through the ages
We offer this history
So it shan't come to pass
That the lore of our class
Shall ever be mystery.

These were years of upheaval—of Henry J. Kaisers and hepcats,
Frankie in bow tie and zoot suit, making us swoon in our bobby socks.
"A" books and "B" books and "C" books, "rayshuns" and "rashuns" and Russians.
No butter, no sugar, no coffee; with our tires worn down and no retreads.
Loud from his freezing apartment, the ignorant sniveling griper
Griped, and in answer defiant, came a call from his draft board.

We had a V for Victory.
We had no sugar in our tea.
We put 10% into bonds and stamps
And at dimout time we dimmed the lamps
And at dimout time we dimmed the lamps.
The Yanks across the seas
Banged up Tojo——"Solly, please!"
We brought the roof above Hitler down.
Riveters at Lockheed went to town
Riveters at Lockheed went to town.
Women riveters at Lockheed
Performing their patriotic war deed
Went to town.

As the Democrats and Republicans discussed the Income Tax,
The girls on Hollywood Boulevard appeared a'wearing slacks.
We took our daily vitamins, the A, B, C's and D's,
And sang "Speak Low" and "Mairzy Doats" as often as we pleased.
We learned First Aid and airplane shapes and poison gases too,
But if we were bombed, you bet your life, we wouldn't have known what to do!

The time had come—'twas '41
In September long ago
Miss Poland greeted us, freshmen green,
(That's a new color you know!)

But soon we learned 'bout elections and things,
And just what we couldn't do.
And though at first we lost our way—
Miss Poland pulled us through.

Now we weren't always that freshman green
But soon acquired a lovely sheen
Of blue and gold—but looky here!
Examine our record and soon you'll cheer.

To prove we had some genii
Look at our number in Alpha Pi;
And if you want some geniorum,
Take a peek at our Student Forum.

'Twas the Akers house sophs who urged the start
Of choral reading with Uncle Art,
And if you search a little further
You'll find the clue to the Cathedral Murder.

And ours was the football team,—man alive!
That knocked out poor Newton to the count of five
And who patched them up again? Hmm?—Could be,
'Twas the girls of the famous Auxiliary!

When they handed us the Sagamore,
(Far be it from us to brag),
With a little of this and some more of that
We doctored up its sag!

We always made the Honor Roll
(Not that we want to crow)
In scholastic ability we topped them all
For us the bugles blow!

We were terriffic, you know, in dramatics
(Far be it from us to boast)
The same can be said of athletics—
Let's drink ourselves a toast!

Akers away, at last, and Lincoln too!
Farewell to high school—joys?
'Twas tough to pull us through!
Take your last look at school
Through tear-dimmed eyes.
Until we meet again,
These memories forever we shall prize.

* * * * *
* * * * *
* * * * *

"They forgot," say the sages with a shake of the head,
"They forgot all their heros, living and dead.
Forgot how they fought as only heroes can,

Forgot the steaming hell in the jungles of Bataan.
Forgot in their foolish laughter and their senseless poetry
Forgot in their senior gatherings with their gay hilarity."

"We remember, you are wrong!" we cry with one accord.
"We remember well the treachery and bloody fight abroad.
This is our last fling at youth, tomorrow we're young no more,

Tomorrow we meet Destiny and hear the cannon roar.
It's our last song, our last laugh, so do not bid it cease
But let the echoes drift away 'till they reach the shores of Peace!"

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of 1944, being of sound mind and in full possession of our faculty, do hereby ordain and declare this to be our last will and testament.

After putting our affairs in order, and having duly registered with the draft board, we bequeath the following:

1. We leave Dr. Hassman and Mrs. Cleary a guinea pig and a First Aid Book.

2. Al Feldman leaves his soap box to Phil Nexon.

3. We leave our sincerest thanks to our genial housemaster, Miss Poland, who has always been to us during our years at Brookline High School both a guiding inspiration and an understanding friend.

4. We leave Mr. Fitzgerald a coat of arms.

5. Lenny Sullivan leaves as he has been doing all year.

6. Rhoda Witkin leaves her well rounded personality to Betty Getter.

7. We dedicate the following plays and movies:

Voice of The Turtle ..... Lassor Blumenthal
Something For The Boys ..... Lorraine Clark
I'd Rather Be Right ..... Mike Rothenberg
Winged Victory ..... The V-5 Boys
The Merry Widow ..... Jackie McNeilly
Destination Tokyo ..... Mr. Bemis's Commandos
Mission to Moscow ..... Mimi Haskell
Higher and Higher ..... Milt Lewis

8. Marty Small leaves playing his flute, and we'll still maintain that no one can blow it like Mart.

9. Margie leaves her snake to some future Char(l)mers.

10. We leave Mr. Weeks a pre-shrunk shirt.

11. Sheila Feingold leaves the meat counter, still dishing it out.

12. We leave Harry Downes our heartiest thanks for having never seen a Newton victory.

13. We leave F. D. R. right where we found him.

14. We leave David Hamburg to the lunch room. He can't be any worse than the ones they've been serving us.

15. We leave the following to our ideal janitor:
Mr. Duggan's pan.
Mr. Kelly's mop.
Mr. Wallace's caustic wit.
Mrs. Collier's soap bubble personality.

16. We leave Mr. Bates still trying to clean up Tobacco Road.

17. We leave Arnie Frank a paper doll that he can call his own.

18. We leave Kent Tice, Jack Keith, and Charlie Osenton a corner table at Ken's, hoping they're not under it.

19. We leave Don Purcell to the Ballet Russe.

20. We leave the delicate question of a partition of Poland until after the war.

21. We leave Jim Noonan still changing women with the seasons.

22. We leave Joe Foss and Dick Isadore still matching Zero for zero.

We, the undersigned, hereby assume full and equal responsibility for this our last will and testament except for Janice Berg who pleads ignorance of all subtleties herein contained, and hereby appoint Miss Deal and Mrs. Hennessy as executrices thereof.

CLASS POEM

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

Can Freedom come without its wage of woe,
Or men speak thoughts and print their views,
Praise God in any tongue, and kneel in pews
Of many different faiths? Or can they know
Their children shall not fear, nor dread to go
Without a bit of food; nor have to choose
Mean Death or feudal, fawning bondsman's dues?
Can men be free and slavery never know?

Can all these blessed things expenseless come?
The answer now, in war, is plain to see:
That manhood's blood and women's tears must fall,
And battles harsh be fought and hearts grow numb,
For men must die in order to be free.
This is the price of freedom for us all.

—Donald Purcell

For- ward, Ev'ry step is for-ward, a- long the road to vic- to- ry!
High school days have now passed by us, we look a- head to hard- er years
Buil- ding, Ev'ry thought is buil- ding a new A- me- ri-ca strong and free!
les- sons learned and friend-ships made here will help to free us from shack- ling fears.
Brook- line, you've shown the way, the task is now our own! It's

ACTIVITIES

Jack, be nimble; Jill, be quick.
What activities will you pick!
All sorts there are, of every kind.
Turn the page, make up your mind.

ALPHA PI

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How we wonder what you are
Up above the school so high
Like a diamond, Alpha Pi!

Achievement, worth, and leadership,
Activity and scholarship,
For these they win the shining key,
A symbol of hard-earned Victory.

CHESS CLUB

For the king and queen they vie;
For a "fool's mate" they try.
These terms may not mean much to you,
But to the Chess Club they certainly do.

AΠ is a good club too

COURT OF JUSTICE

Here we have our Court of Judges;
If B.H.S'. name one smudges,
They decide the offender's fate.
In student government, their force has weight.

Their motto, continuing with this rhyme,
Is 'Let the punishment fit the crime.'
So when you hear "The Court", Beware!
But don't be worried; they'll play fair.

MARSHAL FORCE

Students be prudent, wary, and wise!
The marshals of Brookline have a gleam in their eyes.
Our lunchroom must be spotless clean,
Or else we'll rouse the marshals' spleen.
Freshman, remember, the mashal you see
Is a symbol of order and authority.
He's not there to talk to, except as a guide;
A worthy school servant, trusted and tried.
Dick Brooker, the captain of this force
And Teddy, assistant, chart a smooth course.
Disorder and smoking, it loudly berates.
So, hats off to the marshals; three cheers for "Buck" Bates!

SCHOOL COUNCIL

We have a school council
Which sets down the rule
Of all the activities existing in school.
It fights for a government of, for, and by
Those who would liberate our Brookline High.

ENGLISH CLUB

You who like good books and such
Would enjoy the English club very much.
You'll benefit in many ways
By meeting authors of books and plays.

LIBRARY STAFF

Hush-a-bye students
When the library you near,
You must be quiet,
And that's very clear.

Library staff members
Check off your books,
And help you to find
Those escaping your looks.

RADIO CLUB

Like Orson Welles from the land of Mars,
They're quite a sensation—our radio stars!
They emote and announce with perfection and skill;
For listening pleasure, they fill the bill.

PRIZE SPEAKING

Twelve students standing on the stage
Upon Prize Speaking Day;
As they began, the noise began;
The judges ran away.

But seriously speaking,
(And we don't expect a prize),
Their recitations did not fail
To open wide our eyes.

Originals, original;
Declamations, fine!
When our ex. tem. speakers spoke,
Did they give us a line!

DRAMATIC WORKSHOP

They whistle while they work
On costumes, scenery, and props.
They're never known to shirk,
These people of this shop.

They learn to put on plays
And all that such entail.
Their progress will amaze.
They're sure to never fail.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

Please to remember
The 17th of December,
The day of the three one-act plays.
And when in the spring,
The "play was the thing,"
We could not find adequate praise.

NOW PLAYING

STUDENT FORUM

Here sits Mickey Sharaf,
Head of the Student Forum.
Alice is counting the members
To see if there is a quorum.

The quorum is met; they begin
Discussions long and "hot."
Concerning present-day affairs,
Their opinions differ a lot.

DEBATING SOCIETY

This club of words and many deeds
Discusses topics, and precedes
Debating teams in other schools
In contests, 'cording to the rules.
Whether they be pro or con,
Victory is sure to dawn.

SOCIAL CUSTOMS

Giddy girls and noisy boys
Are transformed and act with poise.
They learn the rules of etiquette
As practised in the social set.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

L'histoire du Cercle n'est pas brève,
Voici les événements de l'année:
Réunions d'officiers et d'élèves,
Avec les professeurs émerveilles.

L'usage de la langue française
Est le grand désir cher à notre coeur;
Jouer, chanter, parler avec aise,
Bien nous amuser, c'est notre bonheur.

DIE DEUTSCHE GESELLSCHAFT

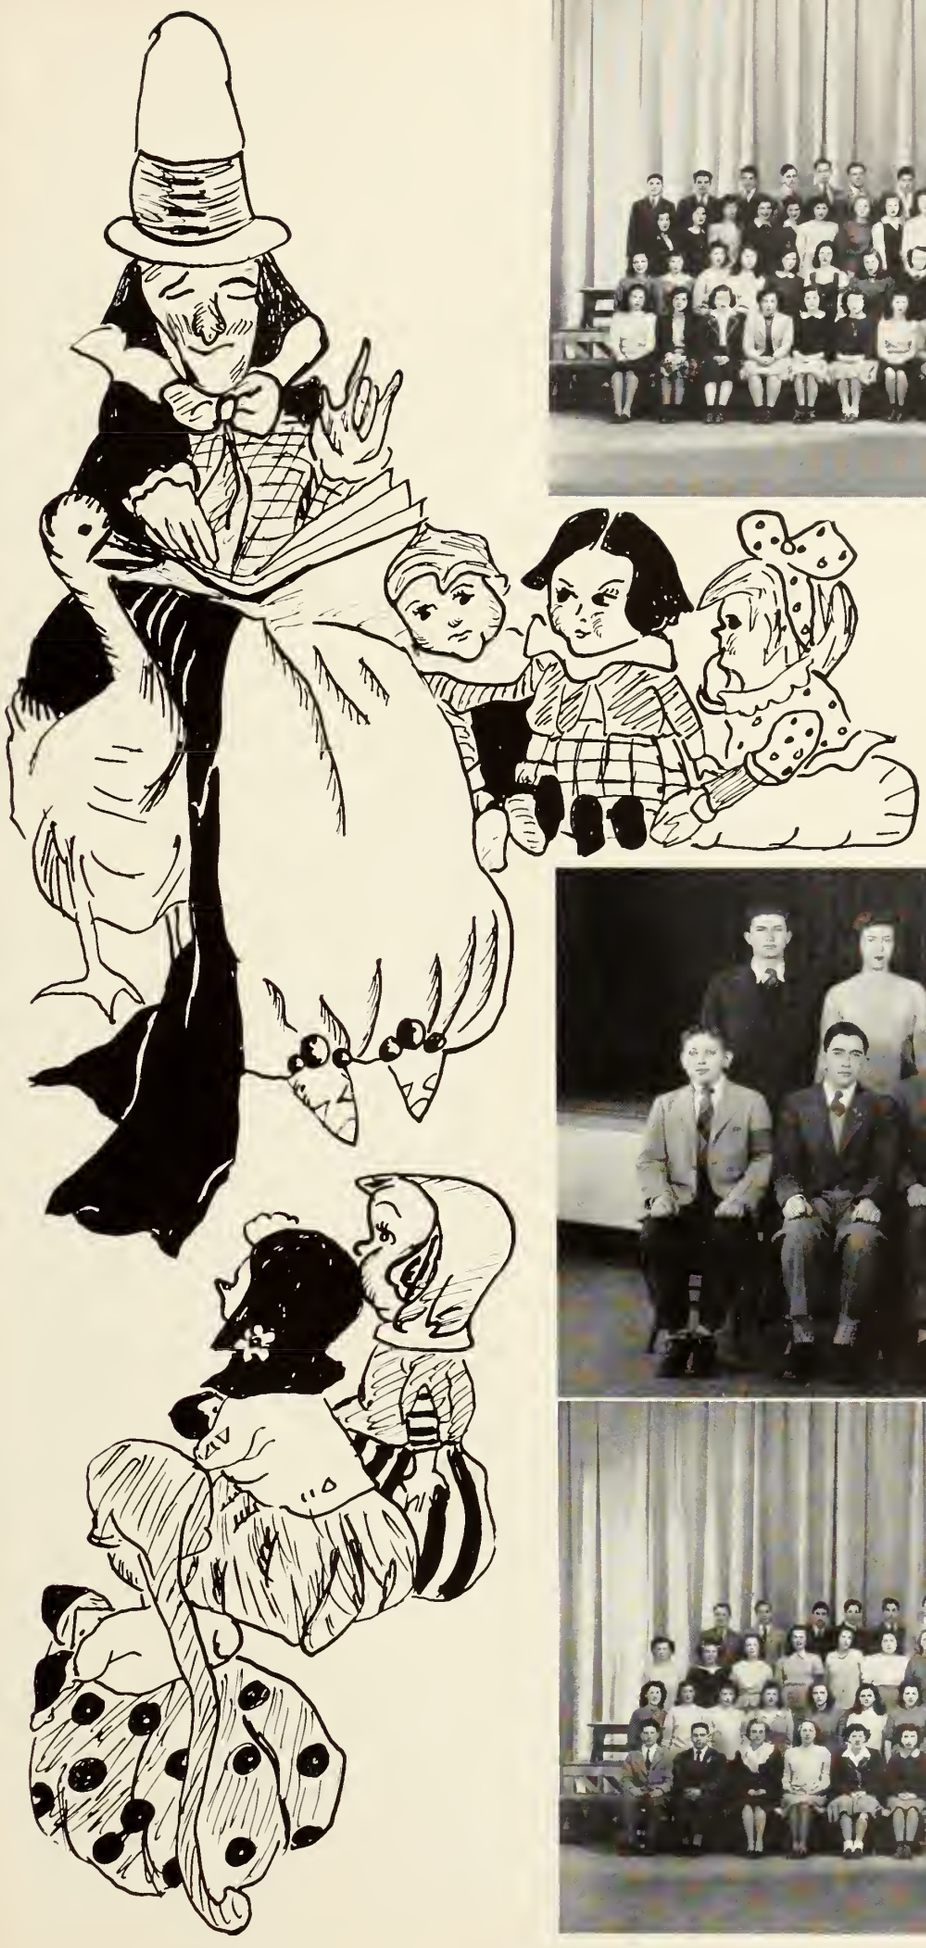
Eine sehr erfolgreiche Gruppe
Ist unser deutcher Verein
Wir haben nicht viele Mitglieder
Denn unsere Klasse ist klein.

Wenn wir zusammenkommen
Ist das was anzushehen
Wir lachen, singen, essen
Und dann, "Auf Wiedersehen!"

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

El Círculo Español es el club más famoso,
Aconsejado por maestros muy bondadosos.
Y los miembros aprenden a hablar español bien
Con cantos y juegos en que todos se divierten.

En la escuela veinte y dos años ha estado
Y en su sitio, nos alegramos de decir, ha continuad
Les gusta el club a todos
Porque es el mejor, de todos modos.



POSTER CLUB

A cow and a calf
An ox and a half—
They paint them all with ease.
Wherever your bound
Their posters are found
Your "arty" tastes to please.

STAMP CLUB

These philatelists strive
  Their hobby to perfect,
Trading and comparing
  The stamps that they collect.
Over prices and values
  They constantly dissent,
Making sure that after trade
  They need not repent.

SAGAMORE

What's the news of the day,
Good neighbor, I pray?
Don't be an old bore;
Read the SAGAMORE.

All the things you'd like to know
About the school, it's sure to show.
News and views, gossip and sports,
Interesting stories of all sorts.

SAGAMORE

SCIENCE CLUB

An atom is a tiny thing.
At meetings after school,
They discuss its properties
And what makes a molecule.

They discuss the "ologies",
Astronomy as well;
And for them a microscope
Has many things to tell.

CAMERA CLUB

The shutters click,
The subject's "slick",
When the camera club performs its art.
Photography they know;
Their pictures all show
Criticism they take to heart.

STAGE STAFF

They're handy-spandy, Jack-a-dandy
When it comes to settin' a stage.
The "spots" they set and effects they get
Are controlled from within the "cage".

The settings, costumes and properties
Come under their jurisdiction.
Their work is swell, and the results all tell
Their committees unite without friction.

BANKING

If I'd as much money as I could spend,
To the U.S.A. my money I'd lend.
The Banking Staff, whom we must thank,
Collects the money that goes to the bank.

There are tellers, three in a room,
Who help to speed the Axis' doom.
The messengers and cashiers, too,
Assist in getting the stamps to you.

CENTRAL TREASURY

If all the world were dollar bills,
And the sea were made of dimes,
We wouldn't need the Central Treasury
In these fantastic times.

RED CROSS

I've got sixpence,
Jolly, jolly, sixpence,
I've got sixpence
To contribute to Red Cross.
Oh, the good they put it to,
May not pers'nally affect you;
Be assured, though, that it helps out some poor souls.

ORCHESTRA

Tira-lira, lira,
All year round
Their fine music
Through the halls resound.
At plays, auditoriums,
Parents' night, too,
They are very willing
To play their best for you.

ORPHEUS ENSEMBLE

Hi diddle diddle,
They fiddle a little,
And trumpet, and toot on the flute.
The reception is gay
Wherever they play.
Mr. Burbank we proudly salute.

BAND

Little Boy Blue come blow your horn;
Play for the band that makes no corn.
Little girl, too, if so you desire,
Add the talent they're glad to acquire.

BROOKLINE
High School

B. H. S. CHORAL

Sing, sing, what shall they sing?
Marches, waltzes, everything.
All their songs sing sweet and true
Whether quicktime, strictime, or blue.

In the winter, spring and fall
Sweet voices ring in Roberts Hall.
Christmas carols, Easter Hymns—
Whatever it is, it suits our whims.

GIRLS' VOCAL ENSEMBLE

Of flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la,
In fact, about most everything, tra-la,
Of the birds and the bees,
Of the wind in the trees,
These girls will willingly sing, tra-la.

Songs

GIRLS' LEAGUE

They come when they're called;
They do what they're bid;
They help when they're needed,
And never are chid.

CHEER LEADERS

Girls be nimble;
Girls be quick;
Girls give forth
The cheers that click.

Shout them loud;
Shout them strong;
Back the team
Two thousand strong.

GIRLS' AUXILIARY

The Girls' Auxiliary runs through the town,
Helping out in war work, bustling all 'round.
On the alert, and always "on the go",
Tasks undertaken are well done, you know.

GIRLS' FOOD CLUB

Pat-a-cake, pat-a-cake, to get your man
Bake him a cake as fast as you can.
Make it light and fluffy, for everybody knows
The girl who knows her cooking is sure to capture beaus.

LUNCHROOM STAFF

Mairzy doats
And doezy doats,
But we don't!

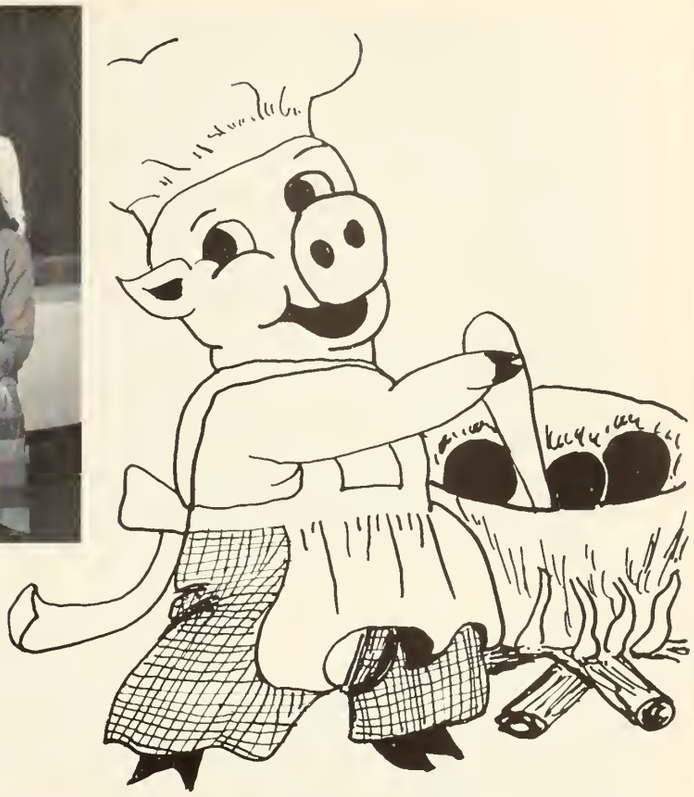
Frogzy bugs
And birdzy bugs,
But we won't (you never know what's in that hash!)

But we owe thanks to the lunchrom staff
For the food and drink we quaff
Their dainty fingers in the soup
Make our stomachs loop-the-loop.
The way they slash the hash around
Makes our hearts go pound and pound.
But what are we to do?
We gotta eat the stew
Monday, Tuesday, and always!

CLOTHING CLUB

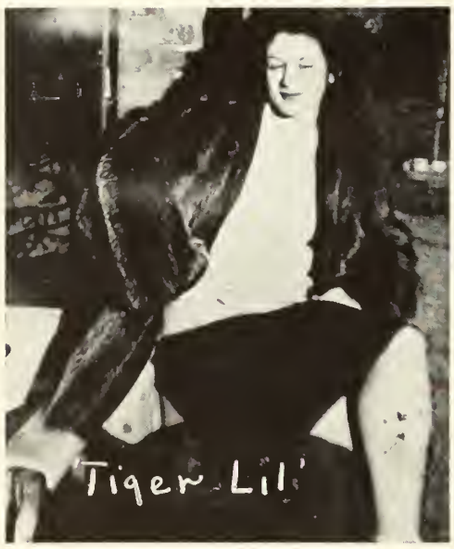
Needles and pins,
Needles and pins,
When the girls start sewing,
The gossip begins.

Hemstitch, crosstitch,
Sometimes, lost stitch.
But the clothes are finished
With scarcely a hitch.



MARINERS

Rub a dub, dub,
The girls of this club
Chart courses on land and sea.
They help with the rations
And man first aid stations,
A credit to Miss E. P.



GIRL SCOUTS

On their honor they will try
To keep the scouts' traditions high.
They're prepared for anything.
Help and comfort they're glad to bring.

BOYS FOODS

Little Jack Horners
Come out from their corners
To learn how to make a pie.
They learn how to cook,
(Don't need a book);
"My, aren't they good!" the girls cry.

PEP CLUB

My dear, do you know
How a few years ago
The B. H. S. Pep Club was founded?
They stirred up school pride,
And acted as guide
At places where cheering abounded.

TOUCHDOWN CLUB

What is the Touchdown Club made of?
Be they quarterback, fullback, or guard,
They're the boys who play our football;
They know how to hit 'em hard.

MURIVIAN COMMITTEE

We boys and girls put down our play
And worked on "yearbook" everyday.
Deep into Mother Goose we delved,
Books that we long since had shelved.
Rhymes we wrote until we were blue,
While Mr. Williams looked askew.
The typists typed out this "work of art"
(Which we think is pretty smart.)
Pictures we made, both big and small,
We hope, by gosh, they're "on the ball".
For formal photos we went to Purdy's,
Where we were told to look at the birdies.
Our statisticians found out "Who's Who"
And compiled the facts all about you.
Posters were made for distribution,
Hoping to get your contribution.
Apprentices we tried to train
In preparation for next year's strain.
Mr. Blanchard, as business head,
Kept this book out of the "red".
Cashiers kept track of the books,
Counting money in hidden nooks.
Classes we skipped for whole days through,
While pictures were being taken of you.
Candids by the boys were snapped,
Their victims unaware of being trapped.
The lay-out committee made their plans
Despite the difficulties of war-time bans.
Now you know all the inside dope(s),
Who, through the hard way, learned the ropes.

FOOTBALL (VARSITY)

Our little Jimmie was captain,
And a quarterback was Kent Tice.
Big Bob sure could tackle
And J. B.'s technique was nice.
Ted Parker and Dick Isadore
Knew how to ward 'em off.
Three cheers to Paul and Gundy
And Mort and Bob Mcglaugh—(lin)
P.S.: As for Barney Birmingham,
He always helped out in a jam.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

F is for the fortitude these boys have.
O is 'gainst the orange and the black.
O stands also for the onward push.
T is for the team that's never slack.
B is for the boys that give their all.
A is for those anxious on the bench.
L is for the little water boys, and
L is for the loyalty unquenched.
Put them all together, they spell FOOTBALL,
The sport that means the world and all to them

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM

1,2—The red and blue,
3,4—Are out to score.
5,6—They're full of tricks.
Touchdown!

6,5—Man alive!
4,3—They're up a tree.
2,1—We won!
Goalposts down!

TRACK TEAM

Tom, Tom, the piper's son
Joined the track team and away he run.
Tho' he was fast, he came in last.
If it weren't for him, we would have won!

CROSS COUNTRY

The Cross Country Squad, at the sound of the gun,
For Brookline High School starts to run.
They run and run and run and run
And run and run until they've won.

While writing this verse, did we have fun
To see them run and run and run.
If we may make this little pun,
They're just like Rayons—they run and run!

BOYS' HOCKEY

Students of Brookline,
Take our advice.
Watch our hockey team
Play on the ice.

Watch the puck glide
Into the goal post,
And then cheer the boys
With one rousing toast.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM

Little Miss Muffet
Decided to "rough it,"
So she joined the girls' Hockey Team.
She put on a gym suit,
Which made her look real cute,
To prove she was "on the beam."

GIRLS' SWIMMING TEAM

Down on Tappan Street,
In the itty bitty pool,
Swim the B.H.S. girlies,
In water, green and cool.

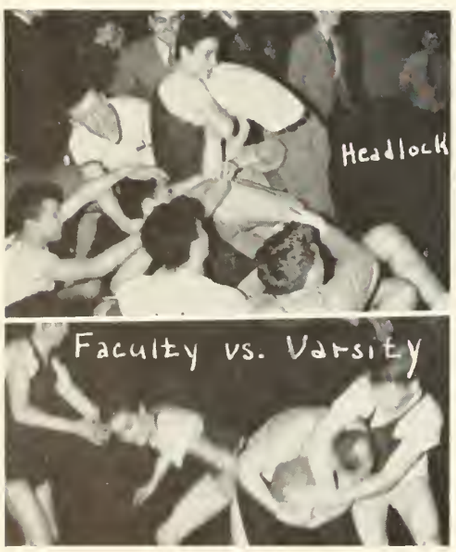
"Swim", says Miss Sutherland,
"Swim, 'cause you can."
So they dove, and they crawled,
And they backstroked, when they swam

TENNIS TEAM

Lob the ball high;
Lob the ball low;
The tennis team is off to show
That they can win the hardest game
And bring to Brookline added fame.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Swing, swing, hear the ball's ping
As over the net it flies.
With a resounding smack, the ball's hit back,
Watched by shifting eyes.



BOYS' GOLF

Fore!
Score!
More?
Sore!

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

A tisket, a tasket, drop it in the basket!
For Johnny Grinnell do and dare;
Pass 'em, smash 'em, careful not to hash 'em,
Playing never foul, always fair.

J. V. BASKETBALL

Tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee
This is the Junior Varsity
Learning techniques of basketball to play the cleverest
game of all,
To take their place so next year's score
To unachieved heights will surely soar.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Girls' basketball meets once a week.
Enjoyment in this sport they seek.
Every time the ball goes through,
The players raise a hullabaloo.

ARCHERY

They shot an arrow in the air;
The spot it lands they know not where;
No matter how hard they try,
It's either too low or too high.

GYM TEAM

They jump over the horse;
They travel the boom;
They hurdle the box;
And all for whom?
For Miss Kelly, of course—
And fifty points
They do all this,
Getting aches in their joints.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

PASSING OUT

This little piggy went to classes;
And this little piggy stayed home;
But both little piggies needed passes,
And woe if they had none!

The first little piggy had to go
To the nurse cause he didn't feel well.
He had no pass to show,
And this is what befell.

He felt so very ill
He went right to the nurse.
She gave to him a pill.
Immediately he felt worse.

When upon returning,
He did not have his pass,
His teacher was so burning
She threw him out of class.

The second little piggy was good
And he brought a note from mother.
He did just what he should,
But still had lots of bother.

First he waited in line
And got the little blue slip
His teachers had to sign
Just for one little trip.

Supposin' that he lost it!—
But we won't go into that.
The trouble it would cost him
Would drive one "off his bat."

MIDDLE NAME MYSTERY

Twinkle, twinkle, middle names;
How we wonder what the shame's,
Sandwiched twixt the first and third.
By the students, never heard.

Trask H. and Harry J,
Mary W. and Paul A,
Rachel B. and Madeline I,—
But ours is not to reason why.

"A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME—"

We don't mean to be insulting,
But this is a smelly school,
For the odors that permeate the corridors
To the nose are very cruel.

In the Chem Department it's easy to tell
When we synthesize H_2S;
Also, when Joe was pasting the candids
It was even worse, we guess.

From 335, or thereabouts,
Comes the scent of formaldehyde
For dissected frogs and insect pests—-
Gosh, we almost died!

The foods classes too, contribute their share,
For 'round near 207
Pickles, onions, and gingerbread
All smell to high heaven.

Thus we prove our statement.
Does anyone have perfumes
To purify old B.H.S.
And take away the fumes?

STREAM OF UNCONSCIOUSNESS

This next poem we're writing to fill up space
We really have nothing to say:
Have you seen "Arsenic and Old Lace"?
What is the price of hay?

Will Willie get out of the wringer?
We wonder what Faulkner is like.
Is Frankie your favorite singer?
Down with the German Reich!

Mr. Merrill likes his cadet teacher;
Mr. Bartlett, Mr. Williams too.
We don't think she'll be a teacher long;
Tell us now, do you?

Are Lorraine and Ken still pal-in'?
What was for lunch today?
How's Miss Nichols, Alan?
Remember that crime doesn't pay.
